The Institute of Tropical Medicine in Antwerp (ITM), the Belgian Platform for International Health (Be-cause Health) and the Federation of European Societies of Tropical Medicine and International Health (FESTMIH) are proud to invite you to the 10th European Congress of Tropical Medicine and International Health (ECTMIH) in Antwerp, October 16th to 20th, 2017.

ECTMIH is a biennial event under the auspices of the Federation of European Societies of Tropical Medicine and International Health (FESTMIH). It brings together scientists and experts from Europe and from all over the world, including many delegates from tropical and developing countries. Since the foundation of FESTMIH in 1995, consecutive ECTMIH conferences have been organised by the national societies and/or institutes of Germany (Hamburg 1995), UK (Liverpool 1998), Portugal (Lisbon 2002), France (Marseille 2005), the Netherlands (Amsterdam 2007), Italy (Verona 2009), Spain (Barcelona 2011), Denmark (Copenhagen 2013) and Switzerland (Basel 2015). The Antwerp edition will build on the experiences gained at previous meetings, and consolidate ECTMIH's continuity as Europe's leading conference and networking event in its field.

We hope seeing many of you in Antwerp!

Bruno Gryseels, Director ITM
Jean-Christophe Donck, General Manager ITM
Ann Van Gyseghem, Event manager ITM
